THE SCHOOL BELL

Friday 7th November 2025

Dear Parents and Carers,

I promised no scaffolding for the start of term. It was a very close thing, but we made it! Monday evening saw the last pieces removed and I'm sure you'll agree how fantastic it is to see our amazing school revealed once again. The next stage will be to get in behind the areas which were cordoned off to resurrect the garden areas. Keen gardeners who have an hour to spare are very welcome to let us know if they want to come and do some weeding!

Meanwhile, we have enjoyed a week full of highlights around every corner. Year 3 arriving in full stone age gear was a treat, as was finding out no-one knew that Humphrey was dressed as Fred Flintstone— how old did that make us feel?!

We have finished the week by finding out that ITV were to feature Humphrey and his support for the poppy appeal on their round-up of Hampshire remembrance stories this morning. We are working on sourcing a clip to share with the children. Humphrey adds something extra special to our already special community so we are really happy he could be celebrated in this way. It's also his 5th birthday today and we think he's aware as he's been extra bouncy!

I wish everyone who is marking Remembrance Sunday this weekend good weather and I hope any services or events go well. My own son is parading with the Sea Cadets so it is an important time for us too. The children have all made a poppy to add to wreaths which will be up in church on Sunday and then brought back to school for our own Act of Remembrance on Armistice Day itself, Tuesday at 11am.

Enjoy a wonderful weekend, whatever it holds,
Mr Hogan-Fleming

Photos on this page come from Year 3's Stone Age Day; Meet & Eat at the church; and Year 6's Mayan Mask exploration as part of their new enquiry: 'is there any truth to learn from legend?' Awesome work everyone!

Music Mark Recognition for St Peter's

As a recognition of the huge amount of work done by Miss Wilkinson, and the wider team, to raise the profile of music at St Peter's, we are very pleased to share that we have been informed by Hampshire Music Education Hub that they would like to celebrate the value that we place on music in our school by presenting us with the Music Mark of Recognition for Dedication & Improvement. Music is such an important part of our life and wellbeing so it's fantastic to have the value that we place on it being recognised in this way.
