THE SCHOOL BELL

Friday 28th November 2025

Dear Parents and Carers,

While always busy here, it feels like we've found another gear as the week has gone on. It's either that the heating is now working again, or it could just be the sense that Christmas is really just around the corner now as we enter the season of Advent and anticipation for the joy to come.

Next week we will also be gearing up to support FOSP in one of their biggest undertakings of the year- the Christmas Fair. Thank you for your support so far with bottles and volunteering, but there's still more to be done! Please see the box to the right for information about what FOSP still need to make sure the event is as successful as we all want it to be.

Meanwhile in school, our School Council and Junior Road Safety Officers were delighted this morning to host our local MP, Alex Baker, for a visit to the school. They spent time talking about they do for our school, before posing questions to Alex given to them by their peers. The JRSOs then took Alex on a walk to show her some of their ideas for making the roads around our school a safer place. Look out for more from both groups next week on how their morning went and some of the questions they asked. We were certainly very proud of the way they presented themselves and their ideas - they were an absolute credit to St Peter's and our values.

Have a great weekend,
Mr Hogan-Fleming

From FOSP: We need YOU!

Thank you so much for all your help and donations so far.

Next week, please keep bringing in donations of good quality soft toys, toys and books which we can use as prizes for the toy tombola. They can be brought in on any day and passed to teachers or the office, who will make sure they get to us.

Next Friday is another all-important non-uniform day. Please bring cakes or chocolate for the cake and sweet tombola stalls. Bottles can still be brought in too- everything is welcome!

You can now buy tickets and tokens in advance of the day itself, using the new PTA events website- you just need an account to purchase them.
